(1) SPECIAL OFFER FOR DRY CARGO CONTAINERS IN APM TERMINALS CALLAO'S TEMPORARY DEPOT

Dear customers and users,

APM Terminals Callao (APMTC) has set special offers for the containers processed as Temporary Depot (code 3014) that meet the requirements below, according to the type of operation. Offers include the extension of days free of use of operational area and/or discounts on the price of the integrated temporary deposit service. Each promotion is independent (not cumulative); for example, if the user chooses promotion 1.1, they would not be able to apply to promotion 1.2, 1.3 or 1.4. Promotions are governed by the following terms:

1.1 Discount on Integrated Service Price and extension of free days – dry cargo import

- Target group: Importers of dry cargo containers (consumers or its representatives –customs brokers, logistics operators, etc.).

- Segment: Importers who address dry cargo to APMTC's Temporary Depot.

- Payment offer: Importers of dry cargo (consumers or its representatives –customs brokers, logistics operators, etc.) who guarantee minimum amounts equal to or greater than 200, 300, 800, 1.6 thousands and 3 thousand containers through the APMTC's Temporary Depot will be granted discounts and extensions of the operating area (taking into account the 10 days including in the Integrated Service of Import Temporary Depot, sections 14.1.1 and 14.1.2 of the Tariff List) as below:

- (i)  $\geq 200$  to 299 containers = 10 extra free days (resulting in a total of 20 free days)
- (ii)  $\geq 300$  to 799 containers = USD 40 discount from the price set out in sections 14.1.1 and 14.1.2 of the Tariff List for import containers and 10 extra free days to those already granted in subsections 14.1.1 and 14.1.2 of the Tariff (reaching a total of 20 free days)
- (iii)  $\geq 800$  to 1,599 containers = USD 40 discount from the price set out in sections 14.1.1 and 14.1.2 of the Tariff List for import containers and 20 extra free days to those already granted in subsections 14.1.1 and 14.1.2 of the Tariff (reaching a total of 30 free days)
- (iv)  $\geq 1,600$  to 2,999 containers = USD 50 discount from the price set out in sections 14.1.1 and 14.1.2 of the Tariff List for import containers and 20 extra free days to those already granted in subsections 14.1.1 and 14.1.2 of the Tariff (reaching a total of 30 free days)
- (v)  $\geq 3,000$  containers = USD 60 discount from the price set out in sections 14.1.1 and 14.1.2 of the Tariff List for import containers and 20 extra free days to those already granted in subsections 14.1.1 and 14.1.2 of the Tariff (reaching a total of 30 free days)

- Effective: Importers may apply or request this promotion until June 30, 2023.

- Requirements:

The minimum volumes of the offer will be accounted for annually. That is, in the 12 months following the date of the agreement (between APMTC and the user) to start accounting for the volumes (for example and as a hypothetical case; if the user's request for offer is accepted and it is agreed to start accounting on October 1, 2022, then the accounting will be made until September 30, 2023). For this purpose, users must submit to the commercial area of APMTC the projections of containers to be imported in the annual period indicated above, in order to determine the availability of space at the terminal.

In the event that the user fails to comply with entering the committed volume of containers into the DT 3014 within 12 months, an additional period of six (06) months may be granted to comply with the committed volume. This additional period will be granted as long as it has been verified that, in the first 12-month accounting period, the user has entered into the DT (0014) 100% of the containers unloaded by the North Terminal.

If, after the end of the twelve (12) months of accounting (or the 18 months in the cases that apply the extension of term), it is verified that the minimum volumes required for these offers have not been reached, APMTC will apply a penalty (the most favourable) to the user. Two types of penalties will be taken into account, but only one penalty will apply and it will be the one that is most favourable to the user. The penalties to be considered are as follows:

Penalty.1: APMTC will charge, as appropriate, the prices established in subsection 14.1 of the Tariff List in force at the time of verification (which refers to a package of services and the use of the operating area in a temporary Depot 3014 for dry import containers). That is, in the case of discounts, the prices of subsections 14.1.1 and 14.1.2 of the Tariff List (which refers to the temporary deposit service package that includes 10 days free of use of the operating area) will be charged. In the case of additional free days, and in case of non-compliance, the free days corresponding to the offer range (X) in which the volume finally entered will be assigned and will be charged for the days that are provided in excess of what the new default range (Y) would correspond to it in case of not reaching any offer rank, the prices of subsections 14.1.3, 14.1.4 and 14.1.5 of the Tariff List will be charged (which refers to charging for the additional days used after the ten days included in the package of Temporary Deposit services of subsections 14.1.1 and 14.1.2). The prices of the penalty for discount and use of the operational area will be invoiced on the containers that have finally entered the DT 3014.

For example, if the user accessed the third range of the promotion (from 800 to 1,599 containers) and promised to enter 800 containers -for which a discount of USD 40 per container and 20 additional free days would correspond, which means reaching a total of 30 days of use of the operational area-, but in the accounting term it only manages to enter 700 containers. In this scenario, and referring to the discount granted, the user in the event of non-compliance will have to pay for the 700 containers entered into DT 3014 the prices of subsections 14.1.1 and 14.1.2 (which is nothing more than paying for each of the 700 containers entered the amount of USD 40). In the case of the free days granted, given that 700 containers were reached and this volume is in the second range of the promotion (i), only 10 additional free days would have corresponded (20 days of use of the operational area) and no the additional 20 days off (a total of 30 days of use of the operating area) that would have been granted; then, for the 700 containers, the user will be charged the prices of subsection 14.1.4 and 14.1.5 (which corresponds to the use of the operational area from day 21 to day 28 and from day 29 to day 30) in force at the time of verification.

Another example of penalty 1, if the user accessed the fourth range of the promotion (from 1,600 to 2,999 containers) and promised to enter 2,000 containers -for which a discount of USD 50 per container and 20 additional free days would apply, which means reaching a total of 30 days of use of the operational area-, but in the accounting term it only manages to enter 200 containers. In this scenario, and in the case of the discount, the user would have to pay for the 200 containers entered into DT 3014 the prices of subsections 14.1.1 and 14.1.2 (which is nothing more than paying USD 50 for each of the 200 containers entered). In the case of the free days granted, given that 200 containers were reached and this volume is not in any promotion range, then no additional free days would have corresponded to him; then, for each of the 200 containers and as appropriate, the user will have to pay the prices of subsection 14.1.3, 14.1.4 and 14.1.5 (which corresponds to the use of the operational area from day 11 to 20, from day 21 to 28 and from day 29 to day 30) in force at the time of verification.

Penalty.2: In the case of discounts, the user will pay the amount of the discount on the number of containers missing to reach the target committed to APMTC. In the case of the additional free days that have been granted, the penalty applies to the containers that have finally entered the DT 3014 and its application is the same as that described in penalty 1; that is, in case of non-compliance, the free days that correspond to the promotion range (X) in which the volume finally entered will be assigned and will be charged for the days that have been provided in excess to what would correspond to the new default range (X); in case of not reaching any promotion rank, the prices of subsections 14.1.3, 14.1.4 and 14.1.5 of the Tariff List will be charged (which refers to charging for the additional days used after the ten days included in the package of Temporary Deposit services of subsections 14.1.1 and 14.1.2).

For example, if the user accessed the third range of the promotion (from 800 to 1,599 containers) and promised to enter 800 containers -for which a discount of USD 40 per container and 20 additional free days would correspond, which means reaching a total of 30 days of use of the operational area-, but in the accounting term it only manages to enter 700 containers. In this scenario, and in the case of the discount, the user would have a deficit of 100 containers to reach the commitment of 800 containers, so under this scenario the user will have to pay USD 40 for each one of the 100 containers that he missed entering for achieve the promised target. In the case of the free days granted, given that 700 containers were reached and this volume is in the second range of the promotion (i), only 10 additional free days would have corresponded (20 days of use of the operational area) and no the additional 20 days off (a total of 30 days of use of the operating area) that would have been granted; then, for the 700 containers, the user will be charged the prices of subsection 14.1.4 and 14.1.5 (which corresponds to the use of the operational area from day 21 to day 28 and from day 29 to day 30) in force at the time of verification.

Another example of penalty 2, if the user accessed the fourth range of the promotion (from 1,600 to 2,999 containers) and promised to enter 2,000 containers -for which a discount of USD 50 per container and 20 additional free days would apply, which means reaching a total of 30 days of use of the operational area-, but in the accounting term it only manages to enter 200 containers. In this scenario, and in the case of the discount, the user would have a deficit of 1,800 containers to reach the commitment of 2,000 containers, so under this scenario the user will have to pay USD 50 for each one of the 1,800 containers that he missed entering for achieve the promised target. In the case of the free days granted, given that 200 containers were reached and this volume is not in any promotion range, then no additional free days would have corresponded to him; then, he will be charged to the user for the 200 containers, as appropriate, the prices of subsection 14.1.3, 14.1.4 and 14.1.5 (which corresponds to the use of the operational area from day 11 to 20, from day 21 to 28 and from day 29 to day 30) in force at the time of verification.

This offer unifies promotions 1.1 and 1.4 described in version 11.1 of the Tariff List without altering in any way the benefit granted to users.

In the case of changes in the prices of the subsections 14.1.1 to 14.1.2 of the Tariff List, the discounts of USD 40, USD 50 or USD 60 apply to these modified prices in force at the time of invoicing. See invoicing details in the Regulation of Tariffs and Commercial Policy of APM Terminals Callao.

- This offer is subject to availability of space determined by APMTC.

1.2 Discount on Integrated Service Price and extension of free days – dry cargo export

- Target group: General users (exporters, forwarders or its representatives –customs brokers, logistics operators, etc. and other users) of containers with dry export cargo.

- Segment: Exporters who address dry cargo to APMTC's Temporary Depot.

- Payment offer: Exporters (forwarders or its representatives –customs brokers, logistics operators, etc.) who guarantee minimum amounts of more than 300, 700, 800, and 3000 containers using the APMTC's Temporary Depot will be granted discounts and extensions of the operating area use (taking into account the 7 days including in the Integrated Service of Export Temporary Depot: sections 14.2.1 and 14.2.2 of the Tariff List), according to the table below:

- (i)  $\geq 300$  to 699 containers = 3 extra free days (resulting in a total of 10 free days)
- (ii)  $\geq 700$  hasta 799 contenedores = USD 20 discount from the price set out in sections 14.2.1 and 14.2.2 of the Tariff List for export containers and 3 extra free days (resulting in a total of 10 free days)
- (iii)  $\geq 800$  to 2,999 containers = USD 20 discount from the price set out in sections 14.2.1 and 14.2.2 of the Tariff List for export containers and 8 extra free days (resulting in a total of 15 free days)
- (iv)  $\geq 3,000$  containers = USD 20 discount from the price set out in sections 14.2.1 and 14.2.2 of the Tariff List for export containers and 13 extra free days (resulting in a total of 20 free days)

- Effective: Exporters may apply or request this promotion until June 30, 2023.

- Requirements:

The minimum volumes of the offer will be accounted for annually. That is, in the 12 months following the date of the agreement (between APMTC and the user) to start accounting for the volumes (for example and as a hypothetical case; if the user's request for offer is accepted and it is agreed to start accounting on October 1, 2022, then the accounting will be made until September 30, 2023). For this purpose, users must submit to the commercial area of APMTC the projections of containers to be imported in the annual period indicated above, in order to determine the availability of space at the terminal.

In the event that the user fails to comply with entering the committed volume of containers into the DT 3014 within 12 months, an additional period of six (06) months may be granted to comply with the committed volume. This additional period will be granted as long as it has been verified that, in the first 12-month accounting period, the user has entered into the DT (0014) 100% of the containers loaded by the North Terminal.

If, after the end of the twelve (12) months of accounting (or the 18 months in the cases that apply the extension of term), it is verified that the minimum volumes required for these offers have not been reached, APMTC will apply a penalty (the most favourable) to the user. Two types of penalties will be taken into account, but only one penalty will apply and it will be the one that is most favourable to the user. The penalties to be considered are as follows:

Penalty.1: APMTC will charge, as appropriate, the prices established in subsection 14.2 of the Tariff List in force at the time of verification (which refers to a package of services and the use of the operating area in a Temporary Depot 3014 for dry export containers). That is, in the case of discounts, the prices of subsections 14.2.1 and 14.2.2 of the Tariff List (which refers to the temporary deposit service package that includes 07 days free of use of the operational area) will be charged. In the case of additional free days, and in case of non-compliance, the free days corresponding to the offer range (X) in which the volume finally entered will be assigned and will be charged for the days that are provided in excess of what the new default range (Y) would correspond to it in case of not reaching any offer rank, the prices of subsections 14.2.3, 14.2.4, 14.2.5 and 14.2.6 of the Tariff List will be charged (which refers to charging for the additional days used after the seven days included in the package of Temporary Deposit services of subsections 14.2.1 and 14.2.2). The prices of the penalty for discount and use of the operational area will be invoiced on the containers that have finally entered the DT 3014.

For example, if the user accessed the third range of the promotion (from 800 to 1,599 containers) and promised to enter 800 containers -for which a discount of USD 20 per container and 08 additional free days would correspond, which means reaching a total of 15 days of use of the operational area-, but in the accounting term it only manages to enter 700 containers. In this scenario, and referring to the discount granted, the user in the event of non-compliance will have to pay for the 700 containers entered into DT 3014 the prices of subsections 14.2.1 and 14.2.2 (which is nothing more than paying for each of the 700 containers entered the amount of USD20). In the case of the free days granted, given that 700 containers were reached and this volume is in the second range of the promotion (i), only 03 additional free days would have corresponded (10 days of use of operational area in total) and no the additional 08 days off (a total of 15 days of use of the operating area) that would have been granted; then, for the 700 containers, the user will be charged the prices of subsection 14.2.4, 14.2.5 and 14.2.6 (which corresponds to the use of the operational area from day 11 to day 15) in force at the time of verification.

Another example of penalty 1, if the user accessed the fourth range of the promotion (equal to or more than 3 thousand containers) and promised to enter 4,000 containers -for which a discount of USD 20 per container and 13 additional free days would apply, which means reaching a total of 20 days of use of the operational area-, but in the accounting term it only manages to enter 200 containers. In this scenario, and in the case of the discount, the user would have to pay for the 200 containers entered into DT 3014 the prices of subsections 14.2.1 and 14.2.2 (which is nothing more than paying USD 20 for each of the 200 containers entered). In the case of the free days granted, given that 200 containers were reached and this volume is not in any promotion range, then no additional free days would have corresponded to him; then, for each of the 200 containers and as appropriate, the user will have to pay the prices of subsection 14.2.3 and/or 14.2.4 (which corresponds to the use of the operational area from day 08 to 10 and from day 11 to day 20) in force at the time of verification.

Penalty.2: In the case of discounts, the user will pay the amount of the discount on the number of containers missing to reach the target committed to APMTC. In the case of the additional free days that have been granted, the penalty applies to the containers that have finally entered the DT 3014 and its application is the same as that described in penalty 1; that is, in case of non-compliance, the free days that correspond to the promotion range (X) in which the volume finally entered will be assigned and will be charged for the days that have been provided in excess to what would correspond to the new default range (X); in case of not reaching any promotion rank, the prices of subsections 14.2.3 and 14.2.4 of the Tariff List will be charged (which refers to charging for the additional days used after the seven days included in the package of Temporary Deposit services of subsections 14.2.1 and 14.2.2).

For example, if the user accessed the third range of the promotion (from 800 to 1,599 containers) and promised to enter 800 containers -for which a discount of USD 20 per container and 08 additional free days would correspond, which means reaching a total of 15 days of use of the operational area-, but in the accounting term it only manages to enter 700 containers. In this scenario, and in the case of the discount, the user would have a deficit of 100 containers to reach the commitment of 800 containers, so under this scenario the user will have to pay USD 20 for each one of the 100 containers that he missed entering for achieve the promised target. In the case of the free days granted, given that 700 containers were reached and this volume is in the second range of the promotion (i), only 03 additional free days would have corresponded (10 days of use of operational area in total) and no the additional 08 days off (a total of 15 days of use of the operating area) that would have been granted; then, for the 700 containers, the user will be charged the prices of subsection 14.2.4 (which corresponds to the use of the operational area from day 11 to day 15) in force at the time of verification.

Another example of penalty 2, if the user accessed the fourth range of the promotion (equal to or more than 3 thousand containers) and promised to enter 4,000 containers -for which a discount of USD 20 per container and 13 additional free days would apply, which means reaching a total of 20 days of use of the operational area-, but in the accounting term it only manages to enter 200 containers. In this scenario, and in the case of the discount, the user would have a deficit of 1,800 containers to reach the commitment of 4,000 containers, so under this scenario the user will have to pay USD 20 for each one of the 3,800 containers that he missed entering for achieve the promised target. In the case of the free days granted, given that 200 containers were reached and this volume is not in any promotion range, then no additional free days would have corresponded to him; then, for each of the 200 containers and as appropriate, the user will have to pay the prices of subsection 14.2.3 and/or 14.2.4 (which corresponds to the use of the operational area from day 08 to 10 and from day 11 to day 20) in force at the time of verification.

This offer unifies promotions 1.2 and 1.5 described in version 11.1 of the Tariff List without altering in any way the benefit granted to users.

In the case of changes in the prices of the subsections 14.2.1 or 14.2.2 of the Tariff List, the discounts of USD 20 apply to these modified prices in force at the time of invoicing. See invoicing details in the Regulation of Tariffs and Commercial Policy of APM Terminals Callao.

- This offer is subject to availability of space determined by APMTC.

- Segment: Users who address dry cargo to APMTC's Temporary Depot.

- (ii)  $\geq 700$  to 799 containers = USD 40 discount and 10 additional free days with respect to the prices and free days indicated in sections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2 of the Tariff List for import containers (resulting in a total of 20 free days) and USD 20 discount and 3 additional free days with respect to the prices and days indicated in sections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2 of the Tariff List for export containers (resulting in a total of 10 free days)
- (iii)  $\geq 800$  to 1,599 containers = USD 40 discount and 20 additional free days with respect to the prices and free days indicated in sections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2 of the Tariff List for import containers (resulting in a total of 30 free days) and USD 20 discount and 6 additional free days with respect to the prices and days indicated in sections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2 of the Tariff List for export containers (resulting in a total of 15 free days)

- Effective: Users may apply or request this offer until June 30, 2023.

- Requirements:

The minimum volumes of the offers will be accounted for annually, that is to say, in the 12 months following the date of the agreement (between APMTC and the user) to start counting the volumes (for example and as a hypothetical case: if the user's request for promotion is accepted and it is agreed that the posting on October 1, 2022, then the accounting will be made until September 30, 2023). For this purpose, users must submit to the commercial area of APMTC the projections of containers that will be imported and exported in the annual period indicated above, in order to determine the availability of space in the terminal.

In the event that the user fails to comply with entering the committed volume of containers into the DT 3014 within 12 months, an additional period of six (6) months may be granted to comply with the committed volume. This additional period will be granted as long as it has been verified that, in the first 12-month accounting period, the user has entered into the DT (014) 100% of the containers loaded and unloaded by the North Terminal.

If, after the end of the twelve (12) months of accounting (or the 18 months in the cases that apply the extension of term), it is verified that the minimum volumes required for these offers have not been reached, APMTC will apply a penalty (the most favourable) to the user. Two types of penalties will be taken into account, but only one penalty will apply and it will be the one that is most favourable to the user. The penalties to be considered are as follows:

Penalty 1: APMTC will charge, as appropriate, the prices established in the subsections 1.4.1 and 1.4.2 of the Tariff List in force at the time of verification (which refers to a package of services and the use of operational area in Temporary Depot 3014 for dry import and export containers). That is, in the case of discounts, the prices of subsections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2 of the Tariff List which refers to the temporary deposit service package that includes 10 days free of use of the operating area in the case of imports and the prices of subsections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2 of the Tariff List (which refers to the temporary deposit service package that includes 7 days free of use of the operational area) for the case of exports will be charged. In the case of additional free days, and in case of non-compliance, the free days corresponding to the promotion range (X) in which the volume finally entered will be assigned, while for the days that have been provided in excess (additional) to which the new range (X) is applied, the respective charge will be made for those days of excess. In case of not reaching any promotion range, the prices of subsections 1.4.1.3, 1.4.1.4 and 1.4.1.5 of the Tariff List will be charged in the case of imports (which refers to charging for the additional days used after the ten days included in the Temporary Depot service package of subsections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2) and the prices of subsections 1.4.2.3 and 1.4.2.4 of the Tariff List for the case of export (which refers to be charged for the additional days used after the seven days included in the Temporary Deposit service package of subsections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2). The prices of the penalty for discount and use of the operational area will be invoiced on the containers that have finally entered the DT 3014.

For example, if the user accessed the fourth range of the promotion (from 1,600 to 2,999 containers) and promised to enter 2 thousand containers (1 thousand of import and 1 thousand of export) -therefore, in the case of imports, a discount of USD 50 per container and 20 additional free days would correspond, which means reaching a total of 30 days of use of the operational area, and in the case of exports, a discount of USD 20 per container and 08 additional free days, which means reaching a total of 15 days of use of the operational area -, but in the accounting term it only manages to enter 750 containers (400 of import and 350 of export). In this scenario, and with regard to the discount granted, the user will have a deficit of 600 import containers and 650 export containers; therefore, the user will have to pay USD 30 for each of the 600 import containers and USD 20 for each of the 650 export containers that were not entered to reach the agreed objective. In the case of the free days granted, the commitment was to be located in the offer rank iv, for which an additional 20 free days were granted in case of import (30 days of use of the operating area in total) and 8 additional free days in case of export (15 days of use of operational area in total); however, since 750 containers were reached and this volume is in the second offer range (ii), in the case of importation, only 10 additional free days would have corresponded (20 days of use of the operational area in total) and, in the case of export, 3 additional days off (10 days of use of the operating area in total); then the 400 import containers will be charged for use of operational area from days 21 to 30 that they have used (i.e. they will be charged, as appropriate, the prices of the subsections 1.4.1.4 and 1.4.1.5) and 350 export containers will be charged for use of operational area from days 11 to 15 that they have used (i.e. they will be charged the price of subsection 1.4.2.4 as appropriate).

Penalty 2: In the case of discounts, the user will pay the amount of the discount on the number of containers missing to reach the target committed to APMTC. In the case of the additional free days that have been granted, the penalty applies to the containers that have finally entered the DT 3014 and its application is the same as that described in penalty 1; that is, in case of non-compliance, the free days that correspond to the promotion range (X) in which the volume finally entered will be assigned and will be charged for the days that would correspond to the new penalty range (X); in case of not reaching any promotion range, the prices of subsections 1.4.1.3, 1.4.1.4 and 1.4.1.5 will be charged in the case of imports (which refers to charging for the additional days used after the ten days included in the Temporary Deposit service package of subsections 1.4.1.1 and 1.4.1.2) and the prices of subsections 1.4.2.3 and 1.4.2.4 of the Tariff List for the case of export (which refers to be charged for the additional days used after the seven days included in the Temporary Deposit service package of subsections 1.4.2.1 and 1.4.2.2).

For example, if the user accessed the fourth range of the promotion (from 1,600 to 2,999 containers) and promised to enter 2 thousand containers (1 thousand of import and 1 thousand of export) -therefore, in the case of imports, a discount of USD 50 per container and 20 additional free days would correspond, which means reaching a total of 30 days of use of the operational area, and in the case of exports, a discount of USD 20 per container and 08 additional free days, which means reaching a total of 15 days of use of the operational area -, but in the accounting term it only manages to enter 750 containers (400 of import and 350 of export). In this scenario, and with regard to the discount granted, the user will have a deficit of 600 import containers and 650 export containers; therefore, the user will have to pay USD 30 for each of the 600 import containers and USD 20 for each of the 650 export containers that were not entered to reach the agreed objective. In the case of the free days granted, the commitment was to be located in the offer rank iv, for which an additional 20 free days were granted in case of import (30 days of use of the operating area in total) and 8 additional free days in case of export (15 days of use of operational area in total); however, since 750 containers were reached and this volume is in the second offer range (ii), in the case of importation, only 10 additional free days would have corresponded (20 days of use of the operational area in total) and, in the case of export, 3 additional days off (10 days of use of the operating area in total); then the 400 import containers will be charged for use of operational area from days 21 to 30 that they have used (i.e. they will be charged, as appropriate, the prices of the subsections 1.4.1.4 and 1.4.1.5) and 350 export containers will be charged for use of operational area from days 11 to 15 that they have used (i.e. they will be charged the price of subsection 1.4.2.4 as appropriate).

This offer unifies promotions 1.3 and 1.6 described in version 11.1 of the Tariff List without altering in any way the benefit granted to users.

In case of changes in the prices of the subsections 1.4.1 or 1.4.2 of the Tariff List, the discounts apply to these modified prices in force at the time of invoicing. See invoicing details in the Regulation of Tariffs and Commercial Policy of APM Terminals Callao.

The average weekly count is calculated by taking into account the total number of transshipment containers moved during this annual period and is divided by the number of weeks in that period (which is 52 weeks). For this purpose, users should submit to the APMTC commercial area the projections of transshipment containers that they will be mobilized during the annual period indicated above, in order to determine the availability of terminal space. In the event that, after twelve (12) months of accounting, it is verified that the minimum volume required for the application of this offer has not been reached, APMTC will charge the standard container service rate (Subsections 1.1.2.7 and 1.1.2.8 of the Tariff List) in force at the time of verification and the additional days used after the mandatory 48 free hours offered by the standard transshipment container service and/or the offer will be cancelled.

As a second hypothetical example, if the user's offer request is accepted and it is agreed to start accounting on 1 June 2023, then accounting will be done until 31 May 2024). All types of transshipment (full cycle or inter-terminal) shall be accounted. Accounting is per container; for example, during this annual period the user could move a weekly average of 1,400 full cycle containers and 100 inter-terminal containers, which add up to a weekly average of 1,500 containers (which results in a weekly average of 2,900 movements; 2,800 full cycle movements and 100 inter-terminal movements). The average weekly count is calculated by taking into account the total number of transshipment containers moved during this annual period and is divided by the number of weeks in that period (which is 52 weeks). For this purpose, users should submit to the APMTC commercial area the projections of transshipment containers that they will be mobilized during the annual period indicated above, in order to determine the availability of terminal space.

APMTC will carry out a review a review every three (03) months of the weekly average of transshipment containers mobilized by the user requesting the promotion; if it is verified, during the review, that the user has not met the required weekly average, then APMTC may cancel the promotion.

(8) OFFER FOR GASIFICATION OF FULL CONTAINERS

Dear customers and users,

APM Terminals Callao (APMTC) has set a discount for volume in the tariff of the full container gasification service that requires the joint supply of N2 and CO2. Likewise, it includes an extension of free days of use of the operational area in case the container is served as a Port Terminal and the exoneration of the payment for change of status in case of occurrence. This offer is governed by the following terms:

(i) ≥ 200 to 399 semi-annual containers = USD 20 discount from the promotional tariff indicated in section 1.2.13.1 of the Tariff List (that is, a tariff of USD 460 per container will be charged), 2 days free of use of the operational area in addition to the 72 hours granted as part of the standard service for export containers (up to a total of 5 days free of the use of the operational area as Port Terminal) and the exoneration of the payment for change of status in case of occurrence

(ii) ≥ 400 to 799 semi-annual containers = USD 35 discount from the promotional tariff indicated in section 1.2.13.1 of the Tariff List (that is, a tariff of USD 445 per container will be charged), 2 days free of use of the operational area in addition to the 72 hours granted as part of the standard service for export containers (up to a total of 5 days free of the use of the operational area as Port Terminal) and the exoneration of the payment for change of status in case of occurrence

(iii) ≥ 800 semi-annual containers = USD 60 discount from the promotional tariff indicated in section 1.2.13.1 of the Tariff List (that is, a tariff of USD 420 per container will be charged), 2 days free of use of the operational area in addition to the 72 hours granted as part of the standard service for export containers (up to a total of 5 days free of the use of the operational area as Port Terminal) and the exoneration of the payment for change of status in case of occurrence

- Effective: The offer may be requested from October 06, 2022 to March 30, 2023

- Requirements:

The minimum volumes of the offers will be accounted for on a semi-annual basis; that is, in the 06 months following the date of the agreement (between APMTC and the user) to start counting the volumes (for example and as a hypothetical case; if the user's request for promotion is accepted and it is agreed that the accounting on November 1, 2022, then the accounting will be carried out until April 30, 2023). For this purpose, users must submit to the commercial area of APMTC the projections of containers that will demand the gasification service in the six-monthly period indicated above, in order to determine the availability of space in the terminal.

If, after the six (06) months of accounting, it is verified that the minimum volume required for the application of these offers have not been reached, APMTC will charge the price immediately preceding the offer with the lowest volume. For example, if the user commits to 900 containers, a price of USD 420 per container would correspond to him in case he meets the semi-annual volume, but if the only manages to reach 600 containers, he will be charged the price of offer ii (which is USD 445 per container); now if he only manages to reach 300 containers, he will be charged the price of offer i (which amounts to USD 460 per container), and if you do not manage to reach 200 containers in the semester, you will be charged the price of section 1.2.13.1 (in principle the special tariff it exists and, if the previous special tariff does not exist, the maximum tariff will be charged) in force at the time of verification.

In case, the gasification is awarded to a container that uses the DT 3014, the two additional free days of use of the operational area do not apply, since the use of the DT 3014 includes a total of 7 free days of use of the operational area, which exceeds the total of 5 days of use of the operational area offered by the offer.

- This offer will be subject to space availability confirmed by APMTC

(9) OFFER FOR EMPTY EXPORT CONTAINERS

Dear customers and users,

APM Terminals Callao (APMTC) has set an extension of free hours of stay for those empty containers that are loaded (exported) by the North Multipurpose Terminal. This promotion is governed by the following terms:

- Target group: Users (shipping lines or its representatives) that move empty export containers through the Multipurpose North Terminal

- Temporary offer: Shipping lines that move, during an annual period, a volume equal to or greater than 25,000 empty export containers will be granted the right to request, for each vessel, an extension of 24 hours of free time that are additional to the hours of use of operating area free set out in subsection 1.2.5.1 of the Tariff List (which are 72 hours of free time), which means that shipping lines that meet the volume of containers indicated above will, in principle, be granted 96 hours of free time of use of the operating area.

- Effective: The offer is valid from February 24, 2023 to February 22, 2024.

- Requirements:

The free time of 96 hours of operational area use will have to be requested by each vessel that docks. In those cases where the shipping line did not request the application of the offer to a particular vessel, then that vessel will only be granted the free time set out in subsection 1.2.5.1 of the Tariff List (that is, 72 hours free of use of the operating area), charging for use of the operating area from day 4 to empty containers that are shipped to that particular vessel.

The minimum volume of 25 thousand containers will be accounted during the period of validity of the offer; that is, between February 24, 2023 until February 23, 2024.

If, during weekly or monthly reviews of the volume of empty containers exported by shipping lines, it is found that the shipping line will not reach the minimum volume required during the annual period, then the offer to that shipping line will be cancelled.

- This offer will be subject to space availability confirmed by APMTC

For this purpose, users should submit to APMT's commercial area the projections of tonnes they will import during the six-month period indicated above, in order to determine the availability of terminal space.
